“Cinema is the most collaborative art form ever invented. When you have a newspaper called Below the Line you are in celebration of the unsung hero of these movies.”

– Steven Spielberg, Below the Line, December 2002

“Great magazine and congratulations on putting it together so well with such really meaty, well-researched articles. Good on yer!”

– Alex Funke, ASC

(From the set of King Kong shooting in New Zealand, Oct 2004)

Three-time Oscar winner; specialist in miniatures and visual effects

“Where has this paper been all my life? Below the Line is exactly what I want to read, and I read it cover to cover.”

– William Sandell, Oscar nominated production designer on 20th Century Fox's, Master & Commander: The Far Side of the World
